MORE ABOUT THE IEMS ESKENAZI HEALTH PARAMEDIC SCIENCE PROGRAM

Students benefit from an unequalled field internship with Indianapolis EMS – the largest EMS agency in Marion County. Indianapolis EMS has more than 200 pre-hospital healthcare providers who respond to nearly 120,000 911 calls each year. Indianapolis EMS traces its roots back to 1887, making it the oldest and most experienced ambulance service in the state.

Students spend the majority of hospital clinical rotations at Sidney & Lois Eskenazi Hospital, a state-of-the-art, 315-bed public hospital in the heart of downtown Indianapolis. Indiana University School of Medicine (IUSM) physicians specializing in emergency medicine and surgical trauma lead the Michael & Susan Smith Emergency Department and Smith Level I Shock Trauma Center at Eskenazi Health – one of three adult level one trauma centers in the state. Our students are also required to complete shifts in other departments at Eskenazi, at Riley Hospital for Children (the only pediatric level one trauma center in Indiana), and in a variety of other settings in the central Indiana area. This access allows students to perfect patient assessment and management skills with a wide variety of patients while interacting with staff in the following places:

- Public Safety Communications Center
- Michael & Susan Smith Emergency Department at Eskenazi Health
- Smith Level I Shock Trauma Center at Eskenazi Health
- Richard M. Fairbanks Burn Center at Eskenazi Health
- Anesthesia services at Eskenazi Health
- Riley Hospital’s Emergency Department
- Eskenazi Health Intensive Care Unit
- Eskenazi Health Cardiac Catheterization Lab
- Eskenazi Health Family Beginnings (labor & delivery)
- Eskenazi Health Neonatal Intensive Care Unit
- IU Health Methodist Emergency Department
- Indianapolis EMS
- Putnam County EMS
- IU Bloomington Hospital Emergency Department
- IU Health Ambulance Service, Bloomington
- Crawfordsville Fire Department
- Noblesville Fire Department
- Wayne Township Fire Department
